

Evolution Experience

Where are we?

How did we get here?

Where are we going?

Humanity needs urgent renovation! We are now at a time where we must reinvent ourselves, in order to continue our existence on this planet. Our old solutions and thinking increasingly fail to address today's pressing concerns; ranging from climate change, healthcare, education, energy and monetary systems to Europe's migration crisis.

Many new promising solutions are emerging, although currently on a small scale. Murmurs of a rising culture change based on a more complex mindset and able to solve today's deeper anxieties.

In this workshop, participants explore how humanity has evolved and is currently performing, through games, role-play, drama, exercises and lectures, using the Spiral Dynamics model as a guide. We will experience the conditions of tribal life, warlord's conquests, hierarchical nations, capitalist marketplaces, consensual communities and newly emerging viral networks and Social Media. We will investigate and hope to understand the next steps of evolution and get a sense of a culture, providing answers to passionate questions.

This is a vivid workshop for those who enjoy learning through experiencing and playing. It is a lot of fun and far more effective in adopting the knowledge and essence of Spiral Dynamics. Participants go through an inner journey as well as an exploration of the external life conditions, providing healing and integration to both the individual and the collective.

Learning starts before the workshop, as participants are asked to explore their past in a creative way. Additionally, you also have the opportunity to fill out a questionnaire, which will provide insight into your personal Spiral Dynamics profile.

Enjoy,
learn, play,
observe,
experience,
understand

There is no prerequisite to participating in the workshop. It is designed for everyone interested in a deeper learning and understanding of human and social development and in finding clarity in and making sense of our current complex world. It will be of specific interest to coaches, trainers, therapists and those working with personal, organisational and societal changes and transformation.

Spiral Dynamics Integral

gives us a new map with which to explore reality. It puts the development of our society and ourselves in an evolutionary perspective and makes visible the direction that evolution is inviting us to go.

It also helps to understand dynamics in teams, organizations, our multicultural societies, and world politics. Spiral Dynamics Integral is based on the works of Dr. Clare W. Graves and Dr. Don Beck
